

P. G. Zalsman Burial At Holland

Zalsman last Thursday afternoon was a severe shock to most everyone in the community, so well was he known to old and young through his long connection with Grayling Fish Hatchery. Mr. Zalsman dropped dead on the grounds, just outside the fish hatchery from a heart attack at 3:30 o'clock. He was directing some work being done by a crew of CCC men when he suffered the attack.

Grayling Fish Hatchery was built in 1914 by Grayling men and sportsmen coming to this region interested in fish propagation, and Mr. Zalsman was hired as superintendent. Some years ago the institution was taken over by the state and Mr. Zalsman, who knew just about everything there was to know about fish was retained in the superintendency position. He had studied fish for years and had the reputation of being one of the best fish culturists in the state. He and his men kept the buildings and grounds in excellent condition, making this one of the beauty spots and places of interest in Grayling. He had a hobby of collecting various species of fish and placed his exhibits in various places about the state at times of festivals or carnivals, where it always was a big attraction.

Mr. Zalsman was born in Holland, Mich., Feb. 21, 1886 of parents who were from the Netherlands. His boyhood was spent there and when he became a young man he worked for his father for a time but most of his life he had followed fish propagation which was for over 37 years. Previous to coming to Grayling he had been in charge of hatcheries at Wild Rose and Bayland in Wisconsin. Mrs. Zalsman died in January, 1930 and since that time he and his daughter Mrs. Elsie Mills had made their home together. He was a member of Michigan Memorial church and active in its affairs, and he was also a member of Grayling Masonic and Oddfellows lodges. At the time of his death he was a justice of the peace of Grayling township, which office he had held for some time.

Mr. Zalsman was enthusiastic about his work and never lost an opportunity to learn more about it. And was always ready to assist others in fish culture. He took an active interest in community affairs and always was ready to assist in any way he could in any matters that came up for the good of the community. His death is a serious loss to not only the department of conservation but to this community as well. Sincere sympathy is extended to those of his family who survive.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon with services at Michigan Memorial church, Rev. H. J. Salmon officiating. Mrs. C. G. Clippert and her father Mr. E. H. Webb sang beautifully during the impressive service. The following acted as pallbearers: M. A. Bates, N. Schlotz, Charles Fehr, Chris Johnson, Paul Ziebell and James McGovern. The remains were taken following the services to his birthplace, Holland, for interment. Surviving the deceased besides his daughter is one son, Horace of Detroit, and grandchildren.

There were a number of relatives and friends in attendance at the funeral including Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Zalsman of Detroit; Mrs. Jennie Lydell, Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mills, Traverse City and Bruce Fogus and daughter of Harrisville; also a number from the fish division of the Conservation department, who were Mr. M. J. DeBoer of the department, Lansing and the following superintendents of hatcheries: A. T. Stewart, Drayton Plains; Guy Linsell, Odell; Harry Ryland, Harrisville; Arvin Wolcott, Harrisville; Mr. Fetta Harrisville, and Capt. Robert Ellsworth of the Silver Creek Rearing Station.

Fitzgerald Swamps Rival Candidates*SENATOR CARPENTER DEFEATS MERCER

Ferguson, Hanson Regain Nominations

Crawford county Republicans contributed heavily toward the vote given Frank D. Fitzgerald for the office of governor in the primary election Tuesday. And Senator Ben Carpenter of Harrison carried the county for re-nomination by a large majority over Ben Mercer of Clare. These fine majorities carried through the state and district in quite like proportions. While Fred Ming of Cheboygan for lieutenant governor received a large vote here, he was defeated in the state.

Efforts to dislodge William Ferguson from the office of secretary treasurer were fruitless and he again was victor. Charles Gierke put up a strong campaign for the office, but Mr. Ferguson's splendid record in the office for efficiency and economy could not be overruled. It's a very responsible job and the public seem to feel it is safe in the hands of the present incumbent.

John LaMotte proved to be a strong campaigner and easily defeated E. L. Sparkes for the office of county clerk.

While the Republicans were favoring with the candidates on their respective party ticket, the Democrats too were having their talean. Governor Comstock was the favorite in Grayling and in the county, but went down to defeat before Lacy in the final summary of the votes. Stebbins and Bailey split even in the county for the office of lieutenant governor, but the former won out in the state.

Picard for U. S. Senator was the favorite with the local democratic voters and easily topped the list in the state. Mrs. Woodbridge N. Ferris was the favorite in Crawford county for the office of congressman in the 10th district. We

Cowell Institute Does World Business

Very few residents of Grayling know that the modest looking little bungalow, owned by John W. Cowell, houses a business enterprise doing a world wide business.

The Institute has registered student members in every state in the Union, every province in Canada and every country in the world, a total of over 5,000 students.

The Cowell Institute teaches the art of Marbleizing all kinds of cement, sanitary floor methods, imitation marble, novelty making and plastic mold-making with formulas, processes and trade secrets.

The business is handled through a mail order method and the medium of advertising is through many of the popular magazines.

Recently the Institute opened a mold making department, making plastic molds of S. R. C. (Synthetic Rubber Composition), formulated by the Cowell Institute and sold exclusively by this company, they being sole possessors of the formula. They fill orders for all styles of molds.

Negotiations are now in progress with outside parties and in the near future the Institute will start a mold manufacturing factory in a large city.

The demand is great for a product of this nature. There is no competition as there is no plastic composition rubber mold being manufactured anywhere else in the world.

Fifty years ago, in and around Grayling, John Cowell worked at lumbering but fate decreed that he go west where he followed mining and prospecting from Death Valley to Alaska. In 1920, in Los Angeles, California, he started the marbleizing cement business. After several years he moved to Chicago. Seven years ago he came to Grayling and formed what is now The Cowell Institute.

Mrs. L. E. Burman came here three years ago and under Mr. Cowell's guidance learned the business and is now an assistant manager. The working staff keeps busy, enrolling new members daily, answering questions for students, filling material orders and attending to the general run of affairs. The Cowell Institute has aided many in starting independent and profitable businesses.

ELECTION NOTES

A light primary election vote is reported in nearly every voting precinct in the state.

Close race between Governor Comstock and Judge Lacy kept those candidates in doubt at a late hour.

Merle Nellist for prosecutor and circuit court commissioner; Frank Bennett for sheriff; Ronnow Hanson for register of deeds; Ben Carpenter for state senator; Arthur Wendt and Harry Sorenson for coroners; Harry Souders for road commissioner and Esmond Houghton for surveyor, will be without opposition in the general election in November.

Reports from Roscommon county indicate the election of Clarence Smith for prosecuting attorney over the present incumbent, John J. Donohue. Horace Felling was nominated for sheriff and Andrew Price for county treasurer.

Returns from the district indicate the election of Ben Carpenter for Harrison for state senator by a large majority over Ben Mercer of Clare.

Grand Lodge, the home of Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican candidate for governor, votes as follows: Fitzgerald 873; Groesbeck 59, and Smith 6.

Herbert Hein for representative in the state legislature had a good majority over Frank P. Buss in Crawford county, but reports indicate a large majority for Buss in the northern counties of the district.

LIQUOR BOOKLET LISTS T. & R. TRADE

Even the liquor industry has recognized the Tourist and Resort trade. A booklet published by the State Commission this year cites the estimated financial returns from the summer business and the number of persons attracted to Michigan resorts and lakes each season.

FRANK D. FITZGERALD

Candidate For The Office of Governor On The Republican Ticket

Frank D. Fitzgerald the successful candidate for the office of governor of the state has had 20 years of experience in the state's service, including six years as business manager of the state highway department. Mr. Fitzgerald is a native of Grand Lodge and is 40 years of age, a comparatively young man. It may be said of him that he has been virtually brought up in the service of the state.

His first public office was that of supervisor of the city of Grand Lodge, the first Republican supervisor ever elected in that city. As a young man he went to Lansing as committee clerk in the legislature of Michigan. He next took a position as clerk in the department of state, the department that he presides over now. During the war he served as executive secretary of the federal food administration and when the war ended he was appointed deputy secretary of state in which position he was serving when Alex J. Groesbeck, then governor, took him from that department and made him business manager of the state highway department which was then just inaugurated into the permanent organization that it is now. From there he was promoted to the office of secretary of state by the vote of the people which position he has held for four years.

In the election of 1932 he was the only Republican state office to come through with a win and has been the only Republican on the state administrative board since the retirement of the state highway commissioner, and the superintendent of public instruction in the spring of 1933.

As an administrative officer Mr. Fitzgerald has had charge of the collection of the gasoline tax and in every matter left to him he has functioned with credit to himself and to the benefit of the state.

Mr. Fitzgerald made his appeal to the people for the nomination to the governorship declared himself in favor of education being a state obligation, of promoting the tourist and resort business, keeping the conservation department out of politics, consolidating inspection work, of old age security but opposes the head tax, favors a pay-as-you-go policy for state expenditures. In speaking of Mr. Fitzgerald says, "Interest on our bonded indebtedness is $10,000 dollars per day. Interest wipes out the value of land and buildings on 569 farms every year. In times like these governments will have to go without things just as we have to go without things in our cities, villages and homes."

ARTHUR J. LACY

Democratic Candidate For Governor

Arthur J. Lacy, the democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, was born at Nirvana, Lake County, September 30, 1876. He attended the Northern Indiana Law School, Valparaiso, Indiana and later spent two years at the University of Michigan where he received his Bachelor's degree in law.

Mr. Lacy began practicing law in Detroit in 1900. In 1918 he was appointed to the Court of Domestic Relations by Governor Ferris. Mayor James Couzens of Detroit appointed Mr. Lacy a member of the Detroit Civil Service commission, in 1919, where he served for four years. Since then he has been active as a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and has also taken part in the reorganization of the Detroit Trust Company.

There are about twenty new pupils, most of whom are in the ninth grade, and about six past graduates.

Three new classes have been added this year. Chemistry is being given in place of Physics, which was taught last year, Public Speaking and 10th grade Community Civics.

Everything seems to be running smoothly and another fine school year is being looked forward to.

GOLF CLUB MEMBERS—NOTICE

Members of the Grayling Golf club are requested to attend a meeting of the members and their wives at the club house Friday night, September 21st, at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of talking over affairs of the club. A lunch will be served. Very important meeting.

Ford Exhibit Here Today and Tomorrow

Featuring an interesting display of mechanical equipment, including the latest developments of Henry Ford's great motor plant at Dearborn, Michigan, the famous Ford V-8 Exhibit arrived in Grayling today for a showing at the Burke Ford Garage today and tomorrow.

At the showrooms, demonstrations of the new Ford V-8 trucks and passenger cars were arranged, with an evening program at which the public is invited to attend without charge. Lecturers accompanied the exhibit to explain the displays and to answer questions on the methods by which the Ford V-8 is produced at the great Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company.

General Ford dealers from surrounding towns paid the exhibit a visit during the day, many of them bringing with them prospective purchasers of new Ford V-8s. Many local residents interested in the purchase of a new car were early visitors to the exhibit.

Preliminary Arrangements "Everybody wants everybody else to be happy," said Uncle Eben. "But dar never was a time when good folks wouldn't get into quarrels 'bout de preliminary arrangements."

NEWS BRIEFS

Misses Eleanor Gorman and Nina Lovely are visiting relatives in Detroit, leaving last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henderson returned Tuesday from a week and visit in Detroit and Toledo, Ohio.

This week—Broilers, 25c dressed; green tomatoes $1.00 per bu. R. W. Collier Poultry & Garden Farm, Lake Michigan.

Miss Veronica Lovely had as her guests Tuesday, Misses Eleanor Pollard, Muriel Schultz, and Evelyn Richter, of Saginaw.

Miss Marie Tanner will be here next week Wednesday to give permanent hair to Betty Mae Beauty Shoppe. Call 144 for appointment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seren returned Tuesday from a few days visit in Flint and Detroit and took in the Detroit Tiger ball game at the latter place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin and son Edward spent the week-end in St. Ignace where they were the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. P. W. Martin.

Can't remember when we ever heard it rain any harder than it did Tuesday between 5 and 6 p. m. Water fell in torrents, the storm lasting about an hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Traxler and son Bobby, of Kalamazoo, arrived Tuesday to spend a few days with the former's sister, Mrs. Archie Lozon and family of Maple Forest.

Until a successor may be appointed to fill the position of superintendent of Grayling Fish Hatchery, to take the place of the late P. G. Zalsman, Hans L. Peterson will be in charge.

Anyone trimming their spires bushes this fall, which is the right time to do so, are requested to let the Winter Sports committee have as many roots as possible for planting at the winter park. Call Grant Thompson or Holger Peterson or some member of the committee.

Oral Levan, generally known as "Blackie," owner of the pool room has voluntarily surrendered his beer license, because, he tells Clarence Johnson, district inspector, his patrons abuse the business by bringing in their hip flasks, and he is unable to control the situation.

Tiger Bill's wild west and vaudeville show gave two performances here Monday night. While a small aggregation, still they gave an exhibition that was well worth the charge of admission. There were acrobatic acts, wild west features, dog show, tap dancing, clowns and a lot of real fun and pleasure. The company seemed to be a very decent and orderly aggregation.

Sam Cooley, our itinerant school boy, returned home last evening from a hitch-hike vacation that took him to the state of Washington. He was away about six weeks making the trip entirely by riding with others. Sam is 16 years of age, but that didn't stop him on the big adventure and now he has much to tell about his experiences. He made the return trip in about ten days. The last lap of his journey from Pruderville included a ten mile hike, until a local man came along and took him home. He missed a few days of school but no doubt his experience was worth it.

President Names Board to Investigate Growing Textile Strike—Senator Lewis Says Democrats Don't Support Sinclair's Socialistic Views.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© by Western Newspaper Union

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT today took a hand in the textile strike by appointing a board of inquiry. The members he named are Gov. John G. Wigan of New Hampshire, Marion Smith of Atlanta, Ga., and Raymond V. Ingersoll, borough president of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Smith is an attorney and the son of the late Senator Elmer Smith. This board was appointed on the recommendation of the national labor relations board and its duties were thus outlined:

1. To inquire into the general character and extent of the complaints of workers in the cotton textile, wool, rayon, silk and allied industries.

2. Inquire into problems confronting the employers in said industries.

3. Consider ways and means of meeting said problems and complaints.

4. Exercise in connection with said industries powers authorized to be conferred by the first section of public resolution 44.

5. On request of the parties to labor dispute, act as a board of voluntary arbitration or select a person or agency for voluntary arbitration.

The President directed that the board should report to him through the secretary of labor, not later than October 1.

Starting immediately after Labor day, the strike spread rapidly and within a short time about 350,000 workers had quit their jobs. This would indicate that the walk-out was approximately 50 per cent effective over the entire cotton, woolen and silk industry, which normally employs in the neighborhood of 600,000 workers.

Leaders of the strike claimed that 450,000 had quit at that time and that more were joining the walkout daily. Predictions of violence were fulfilled, for there were bloody riots around the mills in New England, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina, and several deaths resulted. In the Southern states the National Guard was mobilized.

GEORGE A. SLOAN, president of Cotton-Textile Institute, who at first claimed that two-thirds of the workers had refused to join the strike, later admitted that he was wrong and said: "This thing is getting worse by the hour." He added that the reports he had received showed that additional mills were closing, and added: "I am deeply distressed to learn that blood has been shed in Georgia. These sad events make it plain that the forces unleashed by the strike leaders are now out of their control."

"This is no longer to be viewed as the ordinary industrial warfare which the term 'strike' implies in America. It is not a matter of leaving work and of peaceful picketing."

"The strike call was an appeal for confidence. The appeal was denied by a vast majority of our workers."

"Now lawless bands of mislead people, thousands in number, move across wide areas, against whole communities, smash mill doors, drag men and women from work they wish to perform, and threaten with violence all who do not yield. This is an assault on fundamental American rights."

Francis J. Gorman, director of the strike, announced that he would not revoke the strike call until the employers had accepted these demands:

1. Recognition of the United Textile Workers.

2. Reduction of working hours to 30 per week.

3. Machine load limit and wage scale yet to be determined.

4. Promise by the companies not to interfere with union activities.

5. Provision for a mediation board within the industry to adjust disputes between employer and employees.

6. Promise by the workers and employers that there shall be no strikes nor lockouts during the life of the agreement.

7. An understanding by both parties on the length of time the agreement shall be effective.

Frank Schweitzer, general secretary of the American Federation of Textile Workers, announced that with the walk-out of 10,000 mill workers in the Paterson (N. J.) district and with mills closing in other sections, the silk industry was approximately 80 per cent shut down. Schweitzer declared that the strikers, notably the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, were offering material aid to the strikers and supplying organizers.

The belief of the strikers that the government would indirectly finance their walkout by placing them on the relief lists was only partially justified by Relief Administrator Hopkins. He said the government took no sides in the matter and that relief would be given to strikers as to other individuals when it appeared they were destitute.

NRA was dealt a severe blow when the Retail Coal Code authority resigned in a body to protest against the way the NRA is handling the code. The seven members, who were the ruling body under the Blue Eagle for 80,000 retail coal dealers, are: Frederick Stephens, New York, chairman; Milton E. Robinson, Jr., Chicago, vice chairman; Clarence V. Beck, St. Louis; William A. Clark, Boston; Charles M. Farver, Raleigh, N. C.; Edward B. Jacobs, Reading, Pa.; and John McLachlan, Pullman, Ill. Their resignation was due to the NRA's claim that it can revise any code at any time without giving notice to the industry involved.

"As now emasculated by the NRA, the code is a futile and unworkable thing, while as originally agreed upon it represented a constructive basis for improvement of conditions in this industry," the members said. General Johnson.

In a public statement accompanying their letter of resignation, the authority revealed that the NRA's failure to prosecute coal code chiselers and its failure to back up the code authority in its attempts to stop destructive price cutting were at the root of the dispute.

EIGHT thousand, seven hundred employees of the Aluminum Company of America, who had been on strike for a month, were ordered by their union to return to their jobs when an agreement ending the walkout was signed. Both the company and the workers accepted concessions through the efforts of Fred Keightley, labor department mediator.

AFTER Upon Sinclair, ex-Socialist who obtained the Democratic nomination for governor of California, had called Roosevelt at Hyde Park, he jubilantly asserted that his plan to "End Poverty in California" was identical with the New Deal.

Then he went to Washington and sought the support of administration leaders for his campaign. Mr. Roosevelt had said nothing publicly concerning Mr. Sinclair, but Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, made some pungent comments about the California nomination.

"There has been no California Democratic nomination for governor," Senator Lewis said. "The nomination was made by Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Nebraska. Republicans who had moved to southern California. It was Republicans from those states who nominated Mr. Sinclair, not the Democrats nor the Republicans of California. This gentleman's nomination can be charged to that class of Republicans in Los Angeles as a general protest against conditions."

"Senator Johnson came out for the whole of the Roosevelt policies, and was nominated by all parties. We rank him as a Democrat."

"President Roosevelt is not being disturbed by any presumption that he is endorsing the individual views of Candidate Sinclair. The President, in fact, expects very shortly before the congressional elections to make an address to America, in which he will express the Roosevelt policy and wherein the real democracy he represents offers remedies which prevent the radicalism of Socialism and the destruction of Communism."

"We under the name of democracy can never advocate or endorse a system which appropriates and confiscates honest property, whether it be the wealth of the millionaires or the weekly wages of millions of toilers."

RUSSIA'S ambition to be given a seat as a permanent member of the League of Nations council, favored by France and Great Britain, is opposed by Switzerland, whose delegation has been informed by the Swiss government that it will not support the Russian application for a non-permanent seat in the council, which she seeks the place of China, whose term is expiring.

HURT LONG'S plans to control the primary in Louisiana were curbed by two injunctions issued by a federal and a state court, but his exposure of the administration of New Orleans by Mayor Walmsley and his friends went on unhindered. Also the "dictatorship" laws passed by the senator's legislature became binding and put an end to much of the gay life in New Orleans, for the "old regular" machine which has ruled the city for years was helpless. Governor Allen, Long's henchman, has full power to enforce the new laws through the state police of the militia. Dissemination of horserace news being unlawful, the publications specializing in such information planned to leave the city, and the newspapers announced they would carry no racing news "until further notice."

ON THE advice of Sol Rosenblatt, divisional administrator, the NRA has indefinitely suspended the provisions of the motion picture industry code designed to limit salaries of stars and executives and to eliminate alleged unfair competitive methods in bidding for stars under contract with another company. Mr. Rosenblatt made an investigation and in his report said:

"A star or executive is worth as much as the public can be led to think he is worth by paying to see his offerings. If individual producers find it difficult to gauge in advance the possible value of these services, it is patently impossible for a code authority to exercise any more effective judgment in the matter."

BECAUSE of his unwavering opposition to what he considered the extravagant expenditures of the government and his inflationary monetary policies, Lewis Douglas had resigned as director of the budget. He had long been fighting against certain of the administration's policies, without avail. The two-year budget plan with its prospective deficit of seven billion dollars, presented to congress last January, did not have his approval; now had the billion-dollar deficiency appropriation bill and the scheme for the purchase of gold and silver. It was said his resignation was finally brought about by the announcement of Secretary

Morganthau that the so-called profit of two billion eight hundred million dollars resulting from the devaluation of the gold dollar would be used to curtail the public debt incurred by the New Deal. Since currency is ultimately to be issued against this "profit," and since there is only about five billion dollars of currency now in circulation, the Morganthau plan contemplates a 50 per cent inflation.

The President appointed as acting budget director Daniel W. Beil, a permanent employee of the treasury. It was understood in Washington that there would be a general rearrangement in the Treasury department which would concentrate all fiscal powers in the hands of Secretary Morganthau. Several officials who are not in full sympathy with the New Deal will be let out.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE WALLACE thinks it may be necessary to guarantee the price of corn fodder in order to keep available supplies on farms in the drought area for relief purposes. The office also will assist county drought committees in arranging pools of individual farmers to make purchases. The government will not buy any feed itself for distribution.

"It is planned to either exchange some of these high breed drought cattle for scrub cattle now in the possession of relief or rural rehabilitation families, or to issue these high breed families where the need has been determined. Under this program the low-grade scrub cattle will be slaughtered where appropriate. The exchange or purchase of cattle without exchange would be made upon recommendation of the various county relief administrators and county rural rehabilitation supervisors."

Bridging the Gap

DEPT. OF STATE
STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Department Gets Strange Requests

The Department of State is a "clearing house" for information relative to state government. Despite the manifold duties entrusted to the department by law, every mail brings strange requests for information. These requests every week ask for information concerning the proper procedure in cases where workers fail to receive PWA checks, or where the worker feels that there is some irregularity concerning the work. In each case, the request is referred to the proper department.

Other recent requests ask for information concerning the height of high tension wires; if notaries public can perform marriage ceremonies; if the state issues pedler's licenses. One of the strangest requests received in recent weeks called for information concerning Congressional districts in Alaska.

Gasoline Tax Shows Increase

The automobile gasoline tax for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934 was $1,600,000 more than was collected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933. Records of the Department of State show that for the twelve months ending June 30, 1934 a total of $10,741,210 was paid into the state coffers from this source.

Expenses Filed With Co. Clerks

All campaign expense accounts, under the law, are filed with county clerks. Candidates file their personal accounts with the clerks in the counties in which they reside. County campaign committees for candidates seeking state or national offices file in their own counties while state campaign committees file their accounts in the home county of the candidate. The law requires that all expense accounts be filed within 10 days after a primary election.

No Snow Houses for Eskimos

The only snow houses, or igloos, viewed by the majority of Eskimos have been those portrayed by motion pictures, says G. B. Turner in the Kansas City Times. In North America and Greenland there are approximately 20,000 Eskimos, three-fourths of whom have never seen a snow house, and of these only a fractional number have ever spent a winter in one. In summer most Eskimos live in tents made by stretching skins over poles, and in winter they usually dwell in houses made of turf or earth laid on a framework of driftwood or whale ribs. The igloo, or snow house, is constructed chiefly by hunters.

BELIEVING the emergency phase of agricultural adjustment is about over, the AAA officials are simplifying their program for the future. Tentatively they propose these control plans for 1935:

Wheat—10 per cent reduction in acreage below that of the base period, 1930-32 inclusive; desired acreage, about 62,000,000; desired production, 750,000,000 to 775,000,000 bushels.

Corn—Possibly a 15 to 20 per cent reduction in acreage, instead of 20 to 30 per cent as specified by the 1934 program.

Cotton—10 to 15 per cent acreage reduction under base period, 1928-32, inclusive, instead of about 40 per cent; desired acreage, 32,000,000 to 37,000,000; desired production, 11,500,000 to 13,000,000 bales.

BURNING THE BOOKS

I HAVE just come across an old Roman legend relating how the Ouseman sibil offered Tarquin the Froud nine books—at a price. Tarquin refused them.

Then she burned three more and offered him the remainder at the same price she had asked for the nine. This time he paid the price. And, of course—or there would be no story!—the books were found to be vitally important mines of information on Roman policy, which he sorely needed, and the most valuable were those that had been destroyed.

I shall preach no moral on lost opportunities. But that ancient story does point right at so many people we know in this modern day, who fail to value things until they become hard to get, until, like the books offered to Tarquin, their price has gone up.

It is not only the material things about which we sometimes show such a distorted sense of values. I am thinking more of matters of interest, friendship, love.

People offer us their friendship, and we sometimes wonder what they want of us—or pass up that offer that is made so freely that it seems cheap. Sometimes second thought or a vagrant inspiration impels us to pick up that thread; and we may find that what we thought cheap was generously undervalued—until something of it was destroyed.

There are many things in life about which it is costly to be casual, or careless, or arrogant, as was that ancient ruler about books which held the answer to his needs. Things are not always valuable or important in proportion to how high their price or how easily they are within our reach.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, September 14, 1911

Mrs. H. J. Goslow, of Gaylord, is visiting her mother, Mrs. P. O. First and family.

Anna and Joseph Riese, of Ludington, spent a few days of last week visiting their brother, Rev. J. J. Riese.

To Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Valled, September third was born an eight pound piano player.

Theodore O'Dell who lives at Beaver Creek, last week was at Jackson and purchased a fine pair of driving horses. He made the trip from there to his home in three days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kraus expect to leave today for Elkhorn, Wisconsin for a week's visit with their son, B. E. Kraus who is engaged in the hardware business in that place.

The work of putting down new cement sidewalks is progressing rapidly. Perhaps the most conspicuous improvements that this week has brought about are the new walks from the company's office to their hardware store on main street and the walks running to Grayling-Mercy hospital—and throughout the yards.

Dr. Curmalla, of Roscommon, was in our city last Monday.

County Treasurer John F. Hum was in Manistee on business, Monday and Tuesday.

J. H. Wingard will go to Grand Rapids next week to attend the Eastern school for professional photographers.

A number of our citizens returned from a three months pleasure trip abroad. Mr. and Mrs. John K. Hanson, Mrs. Jorgenson and daughter Minnie, and Mrs. C. Schow spent most of their time seeing the sights and visiting friends in Denmark while Mr. and Mrs. R. Hanson divided their time between Denmark and Germany.

Miss Mabel Brasie, clerk for A. Kraus and Son, is spending a week's vacation with friends at North Branch, Lapeer county.

Feldhauser Bros., of Maple Forest township are moving their portable sawmill to AuSable, where they have a contract to cut a million feet of lumber for Geo. A. Loud & Son.

The family of E. E. Hartwick of Detroit, have been spending several weeks at the Michelson home. Mr. Hartwick came last Saturday and expects to return with his family some time this week.

Fifty buildings are completed in AuSable and Oscoda and only twenty fire sufferers are living in army tents. It is expected that there will be a big boom in the spring. At present there is work for all, but the winter will probably be a hard one for the homeless.

Dr. O. Palmer was in West Branch on legal business Monday and reports one of the most terrific electrical storms he ever witnessed.

Postmaster M. A. Bates and wife went to Sterling Monday, where they joined Postmaster Ames and wife of that place, and together they drove by automobile to Detroit and other places in southern Michigan. They attended the postmaster's convention in session at Detroit this week and are expected home tomorrow.

F. G. Walton is having installed into his home at the corner of Elm street and Michigan avenue, a hot water heating system.

Letts Bros., who came here from AuSable to start a tailoring shop, were among the fire sufferers at that place, during the late forest fire that wiped out the entire city. While they were assisting others to save their property from the flames their store and entire contents besides their homes, were entirely burned, leaving them with only the clothes they wore and two pairs of hands with which to begin life's battle over again.

For a number of years she lived at Bay City where she is popular and well known, but for some time she has been bookkeeper for The Federal Casualty company at their Detroit offices. The groom is one of our successful, well known physicians. He has a host of friends who will unite in extending best wishes to him and his bride. ### The Carat

The carat, a measure of weight or fineness, is used by jewelers to express both. A carat weighs four grains or the one hundred twentieth part of a Troy ounce. In determining the fineness of a precious metal 24 carats is considered the standard of purity. Hence an eighteen-carat gold ring would be one containing 18 parts in 24 of pure gold.

Japan Prepares in Every Way for War

Apparently Japan wants to be prepared for every contingency that it can be brought about by war. The civilian population is being thoroughly acquainted with the use of gas masks in case a next possible conflict is carried right to the people. ### CULINARY KINKS

WITH mustard, pickles, chow-chow, cream, anchovy paste, chutneys and such condiments at most banquets either put up or purchased, there is a great variety in taste, the condiments in salads and soups. These same condiments may be frequently used for giving attractiveness or for changing when some interesting foods are required.

When there is a crisis fresh lettuce leaves, a salad of water, and a little vinegar, with a touch of lemon juice, and a bit of minced onion and French dressing.

One tender leaves of endive, sprinkled with chopped stuffed olives and dressed with tarragon vinegar in the French dressing.

Try the pre-sized tomatoes stuffed with a chopped cabbage to which a little or two of pineapple may be added. Mix with a good salad dressing.

Nowadays with flour prepared especially for cake making, one is inclined against coarse grained and heavy cake. If rules are followed.

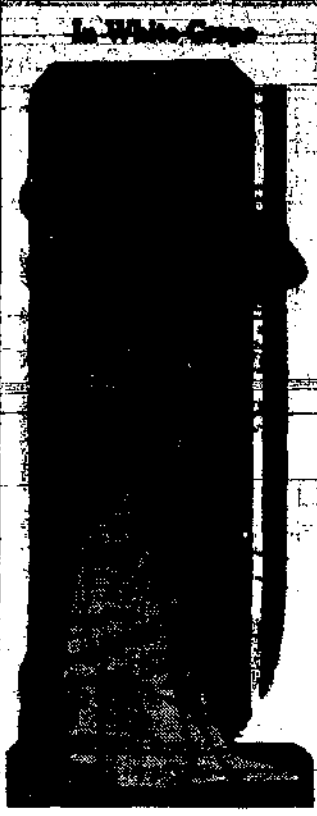

Folding in the stiffly beaten egg is another important step, not to destroy the lightness by breaking down the air cells in the egg.

For the hostesses who wish to serve pies as individual ones, there could be nothing more attractive than the pumpkin, the cranberry or the custard.

Fruit should always be dredged with flour to keep it from sinking in the batter. Milk and flour added alternately with much beating after each addition makes a fine texture in the cake.

Measure time for baking into quarters. In the first quarter the cake should begin to rise, in the second quarter finish rising and begin to brown, the third quarter should finish browning and begin to shrink from the pan, and the last quarter finish baking. Test before taking from the oven, then cool before frosting.

A MOTHER'S LOVE

By ANNE CAMPBELL

IN MY back yard a morning-glory vine

Grows wild, and if I do not weed it out,

It will destroy each pretty rose of mine.

And still the poppy petals all about.

Just so my love might grow on roots as strong

And choke each pretty flowering thought you hold.

I must take care! A mother's love is wrong

That stifles the young bloom till leaves unfold.

When Guns Do Not Fire
Ordinary pistols loaded with "blanks" are used at track meets as starting signals. During intensely cold weather such guns will not fire because the oil in the action of the gun freezes and gums the firing mechanism.

Among the distinguished guests last summer was Col. Ahrends of the War department, and the latter was so delighted with the place that he says he hopes to be sent here again. He remarked that Camp Grayling was the finest military camp in America, and he is of the opinion that eventually it would come into permanent use.

Many Grayling home owners may justly be proud of their gardens this summer. Most inspiring are those that make special efforts toward floral culture. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnett always have a fine flower garden and specialize in gladioli. This year these have been outstanding and have won many fine compliments. Not the least of these is the high commendation given them by a well-known northern Michigan gladioli specialist, who claims theirs would win prizes in any gladioli show. They are also very successful in growing other varieties of flowers. Dr. and Mrs. Clippert produced this year the finest collection of dahlias that we have ever seen, even in well known dahlia farms. Their plants are of the more unusual varieties, some of which have been as large as 10 inches in diameter, and the colors certainly have been gorgeous and beautiful. Mercy Hospital, Mrs. Margrethe Graham's, Nala Corwin's Miss Mabel Brasia's and Mrs. George Burke's gardens are beautiful with flowers and flowering shrubs. And there are many other homes showing beautiful flower gardens. It is an inspiration to walk around town just to see some of our fine home gardens.

Who Said Fishing Wasn't Any Good?

Pointing out that he has had just as good fortune with his fly rod this year as in previous seasons, Jack Redhead, popular Grayling guide, stopped at the Log Office last week long enough to take exception to current reports that the AuSable is fished out.

Redhead says that while it is all very true that many have found the stream rather sparsely in its contributions to the creek, he has had several limit catches and never yet has come home skunked. His remarks amplify communications and correspondences received at the Log Office bearing evidence of other successful treks to AuSable lures.

Redhead admits that many have come from the stream with few fish, but he explains that situation in a very few words. "It's all in where you go, when you go and what you use after you get there," he states.

"The fish have been choosy, alright," he continued, "and I remember one occasion when seven fishermen spent the largest part of a day on the stream and came home with but one or two trout. But I put in where they came ashore and in less than an hour and a half had caught my limit. Hundreds were rising on all sides and by using the proper flies I was rewarded with a strike almost every time my bait hit the water."

Chaplain's Weekly News Letter

Fourth Forestry District

The time is fast approaching when a large percentage of our boys will be leaving the CCC forever. Many warm friendships have been made. We shall miss you. Our feelings at parting will be comparable to those of the college graduate at the hour when he packs up and leaves familiar scenes and faces.

Last Thursday was a gala night at Camp Higgins Lake. By some feat of magic Capt. Rolan procured about 275 pounds of ducks (not wild) which were the highlight of a meal conducive to slugging. With Mrs. Salmon at the piano the Chaplain soon had the rafters ringing with such melodious songs of the day as "Wagon Wheels" and "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." The Chaplain sends herewith to each camp a copy of the choruses with a hope that other camps will follow suit.

Capt. Murphy of 672 has returned from a five-day leave with a stiff neck and the roof of his mouth sunburned. Yes, he's been at the Century of Progress gazing at the sky ride, tall buildings and other sights!

"Bob" Hodgins, Camp Superintendent of Higgins Lake, says that owing to so much damp weather lately the number of his men at nursery headquarters has been increased to sixty to take care of the fall planting.

In his talks with various and sundry enrollees the Chaplain is impressed with the large number who have completed all but one year necessary for a high school diploma. He suggests that these boys in each camp be enrolled in what might be called a "Three Year Club." Perhaps by banding together and putting forth some concentrated effort they might make some arrangement whereby sufficient credits could be obtained from a nearby high school for work done in camp this winter.

Messrs. Aldrich and McClure of the State Conservation Dept. were recent guests and speakers at Camp Hartwick Pines.

Adviser Holland reports short-hand, German and music among the new classes recently started. In a last week column Walter Winchell states that President Roosevelt is an accomplished pianist, playing the classics in masterly fashion. Former vice-president Dawes is a pianist of note, as was former Secretary of the Treasury, Woodin. The musical man is very often the well-rounded man. Good luck to Adviser Holland's classes in music. Maybe he can produce a piano player for the Chaplain. The fact that among about 1800 boys not one can be found is something on which to ponder.

The safety meetings at 674 each Wednesday night have evolved into "pop" meetings. There are always refreshments and interesting talks.

Lt. Miller is organizing classes in boxing and wrestling.

The camp artist, Virgil Jackson, has gone back to school.

In his "Pioneer Tattler"—Adviser Merritt quotes an interesting paragraph—"A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as hopeless; forests which are so used that they cannot renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens."—Theodore Roosevelt.

When you plant a tree you are planting a future. The more trees you plant, the more secure the future of our country. Let us all join in the tree-planting campaign and make our country a better place for ourselves and for our children.

ACIDIZING OIL

The treatment of oil wells with acid for the purpose of increasing production was developed in the Mt. Pleasant field of Michigan in 1929. Acid is now successfully used in oil fields throughout the nation and in some foreign countries. It has resulted in the coining of a new word "acidizing."

APPRECIATION

My sincere thanks is extended to the voters of Crawford County for the fine support accorded me in the Primary election Tuesday. Although I did not win the nomination I appreciate the vote I received.
